

UEMS ENT SECTION - Resident's LOG BOOK

VII. Facial Plastic Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgery

A. Diagnostic Procedures and multidisciplinary approach

a) CLINICAL EXAMINATION

- 1 assessment of the face and ethnic variation
- 2 facial analysis
- 3 effects of aging process
- 4 assessment of skin
- 5 psychological assessment / screening
- 6 photography
- 7 investigation of the cranial nerves, clinical
- 8 facial paralysis grading
- 9 anterior rhinoscopy
- 10 endoscopy
- 11 microscopy
- 12 computer imaging

b) TESTS OF FUNCTION

- 13 rhinomanometry
- 14 acoustic rhinometry
- 15 olfactory tests
- 16 cytology of nasal mucosa
- 17 allergy tests
- 18 airstream simulation
- 19 photography, videography

c) INTERPRETATION OF RELEVANT IMAGING

- 20 ultrasound scan (a- and b-mode)
- 21 X-ray conventional, OPG
- 22 Cephalometry
- 23 interpretation of
 - a. CT-scan
 - b. MR-imaging
 - c. Isotope scan (szinti-scan)
 - d. Angiography
 - e. PET-CT

24 digital volume tomography

25 3D Analysis

B. Non-surgical management

- 26 pharmacological therapy
- 27 topical drug application
- 28 chemical peels
- 29 laser therapy
- 30 intense light therapy
- 31 noninvasive tissue therapy
- 32 intense ultrasound and related methods
- 33 percutaneous cryotherapy
- 34 percutaneous, minimally invasive tissue ablation
- 35 management of wounds
- 36 application of botulinum toxins and neuromodulators
 - a. for reconstructive purposes
 - b. for the treatment fo facial paralysis and other neural deficits
 - c. for cosmetic purposes including wrinkle treatment
 - d. for wound healing and improved scarring
- 37 application of fillers (temporary and permanent)
- 38 wrinkle treatment, other methods
- 39 management of scar tissue
- 40 lipolysis
